AGASSIZ COMMUNITY COUNCIL NEWS

Next Council Meeting: January 9th, 8:00 p.m. in the School library.

The January 9th Council meeting will focus on a discussion of the latest sale by Harvard University to Lesley College of four residential buildings, all within the recently down-zoned Mellen St. area. The purposes of such a sale are not only detrimental to the Mellen Street residential area, but fly in the face of the recent compromise that took over two years to work out. The sale also breaks a written commitment by Harvard University with the City of Cambridge in 1972 which clearly states that any properties sold would be offered to existing tenants first. In the buildings in question, at least one family was told last summer that if Harvard were to sell the property, they would have the first option to purchase it.

COMMUNITY COUNCIL NEWS, Cont.

Now that the properties have been sold, the question is what will happen to the tenants and what will happen to the property.

Lesley College is known for quickly converting residential buildings to institutional use and as quickly removing them from the tax role. Residents of the affected buildings have filed a petition with the City Council which would prohibit evictions by non-profit institutions for the next six months. If the Council votes favorably on this petition it will at least protect the tenants for six months.

COUNCIL NEWS, Cont.

In the meantime, the Community Development Department is drafting an Order that would accomplish the same thing on a permanent basis. Come to the meeting on January 9th and help your neighbors with this important issue. Your input is vitally needed!
