NOTES FROM THE SEPT. 15 MEETING

Renovations Planned for Cambridge Common

Bill Deignan, Transportation Program Manager for the City of Cambridge, presented plans for improvements to the Cambridge Common, last renovated in the 1970s. The project has two components: renovation of the Common and creation of a multi-use path in Flagstaff Park, the "island" of grass and trees that hosts a flag pole and serves as an egress to the tunnel for MBTA buses.

"Plans are conceptual at this point, but they've been in the works for at least ten years," stated Mr. Deignan, who described the Common as a "historic open space in the city, centrally located, important to people in many different ways." Four city committees, the Historical Commission, the Bicycle and Pedestrian Advisory Committees, and the Committee on Public Planting (tree advisory), have advised the project, and Agassiz resident Cynthia Smith of Halvorson Design has been hired as the landscape architect.

Renovations to the Common

The goals of the renovation include simplifying the landscape, meeting accessibility codes by reconstructing paths, and increasing the lighting in areas that are deficient. The path locations will stay as they are, except for the re-creation of a central path leading from the entry gate to the monument.

In addition, there are plans to:

- Pave one small trodden path
- Reduce the paved central area: pave circular areas with bricks and relocate the current cobbles
- Plant over one hundred new trees and

Renovations to Flagstaff Park

Community Development (CDD) will increase the size of Flagstaff Park to include a new, two-way multiuse path to improve connections from Harvard Square to Mass. Ave.

Redesign of Waterhouse Street

Waterhouse Street is on the city’s five-year plan for repaving. CDD plans to add a crosswalk at the intersection of Waterhouse and Mass. Ave. as well as install a sidewalk along the Waterhouse edge of the Common.

Start Date

Renovations to the Common are expected to begin in 2014. However, CDD intends to complete the design by summer 2011 in the event that funding becomes available sooner. The project will cost $3.5 to $4 million-dollar, with a little over $2 million in funding from the Federal government.

Q&A

Q: Can you install a sidewalk for people exiting parked cars along Mass. Ave., or perhaps create breaks in the fence?

A: CDD will consider this request. New breaks in the fence require accessibility considerations.

Q: Can you make the conditions better for trees in the Common?

A: CDD will plant a variety of different tree species and amend the soil in areas with drainage problems.

Q: We’d like to support this project. How can we help?

A: Residents can show support by attending the public meetings that CDD will host to discuss the project.

Cambridge Goes Single Stream

Randi Mail, Cambridge Recycling Director, announced that the city will switch to single stream recycling starting October 25, 2010. Whereas previously the city required that recycling be separated, paper, plastic, and metals can now be co-mingled in one receptacle. The city’s recycling contractor will make use of six new vehicles, including rear-load, compacting trucks and side-load trucks (for large cardboard), and additional staff.

Although the revenue Cambridge receives from the sale of recycling materials will likely decrease, the city hopes that residents, encouraged to recycle more, will produce less trash. To assist with this, single family homes and buildings containing up to five units will receive free rolling “toter” bins. The Recycling Department is also lifting the size restriction on cardboard.

Casella, the recycling processor located in Charlestown, MA, is using advanced equipment to sort and pack materials in bales averaging about one ton. These materials are sold to domestic and overseas markets. Plastics can be remade into durable goods such as plastic lumber, and floor tiles, and metals might become bicycles, “new” soft drink cans, etc..

Remember

- Be sure recycling is free of liquids and food waste.
- Plastic bags, videotapes, and cassette tapes are NOT accepted as they can damage the machines.
- Residents are welcome to keep their current blue bins, but otherwise these should be placed upside down on the curb the day after your normal collection day (November only.)
- When in the market for something new, consider purchasing items that contain post-consumer content.

New!

Cambridge recycling is now accepting as of October 25:

- Empty pizza boxes (no cheese or crust)
- Empty paper coffee cups (no Styrofoam)
- Big plastic items like laundry baskets, buckets, and toys (please remove batteries)
- Spiral cans (i.e. potato chip, coffee, and nut cans)

Take a tour of the recycling facility in Charlestown! The next tour will be on November 18th. To reserve a spot or learn more, e-mail recycle@cambridgema.gov or call (617) 349-4815.

ANC Seeks Your Input on Sacramento Field

In June, Paul Ryder, Cambridge’s Director of Recreation, encouraged the council to provide feedback on the state of Sacramento Field, a park on Sacramento Street used by residents and nearby school and out-of-school-time programs.

Several council members compiled a list, which includes suggestions from Agassiz Baldwin Children’s Programs staff, and are now seeking additional input from abutters to the field, the community, and the school. Once complete, a letter will be sent to the Cambridge Parks Commission. Please send suggestions and comments to Phoebe Sinclair, Community Liaison, at psinclair@agassiz.org

City Councillor Leland Cheung, who was in attendance at the meeting, stated, “Several members of the city council also reviewed the park and we agree it needs work. Please send your letter to the council and we’ll review with the parks department.”

Community

REMEMBERING MRS. NAGATOMI

ABC remembers our good friend and neighbor Masumi Mary Nagatomi, a longtime supporter of Agassiz Baldwin Community, who passed away in August.

Born in 1931 in California, Mrs. Nagatomi married Masatoshi Nagatomi in 1956 and relocated to Cambridge. Mr. Nagatomi pursued a teaching career at Harvard University and Mrs. Nagatomi raised their daughters, cultivated a garden, participated in community events and, later, worked at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. Mrs. Nagatomi is survived by her husband, three daughters, grandchildren, nieces, and nephews. She will be missed.

In honor of Mrs. Nagatomi, ABC will plant a weeping cherry tree in our garden at Maud Morgan Arts. Neighbors are invited to contribute to the memorial by sending a donation to Maud Morgan Arts, 20 Sacramento Street, Cambridge, MA 02138. (Please indicate that the donation is in memory of Mrs. Nagatomi.)

LWN FALL PROGRAMS

Living Well Network (LWN), ABC's program that links seniors with people of all ages in a neighborhood-based social network, invites you to take advantage of this fall's offerings.

Computer Lounge

Coming this October, visit the Living Well Network Computer Lounge, open every Wednesday from 1:00-3:00 PM in the Agassiz Baldwin Community Room located in North Hall, 1651 Mass. Ave. Stop by to have a snack, enjoy the social atmosphere, and get instruction from our new Computer Lab Coordinator Colin Barr and a team of volunteer teachers. A five-dollar donation is suggested per class. Stay tuned for additional information.

Help Create An Agassiz Walking Path

Community-member Seddon Wylde and LWN seek volunteers to help organize an Agassiz walking path. This path/trail will constitute a forty-minute (walking) route through the neighborhood that will identify famous and not-so-famous buildings, trees and shrubs, locally nesting birds, and more.

Volunteers are needed to help research the details of thirty places of interest, with each person responsible for five. Our goal is to eventually create a booklet/brochure designed and illustrated by local artists that would also be for sale.

Want to volunteer or learn more? Contact Seddon Wylde at srwweaves@comcast.net or Phoebe Sinclair at psinclair@agassiz.org.

Snow Removal Program

Back by popular demand, LWN will arrange for a snow removal program for community members over age fifty. Details to follow.

Yoga

LWN Yoga class with teacher Christine Palamidessi begin this November 9. Classes will take place on Saturdays from 9:30-10:30 AM in Lesley's University Hall, 1815 Mass. Ave. Students should wear loose clothing and bring a yoga mat and beach towel. The fee for the full month is $25 ($6.25 per class) or $12 per class for drop-in participants.

This class requires ten students to commit to a full month, so sign up now and invite your friends, family, and neighbors! To register or learn more, contact Phoebe Sinclair at (617) 349-6287 x10 or psinclair@agassiz.org.

CALL FOR CHEFS/TURKEY COOKERS

Agassiz Baldwin Community seeks twelve volunteers to cook turkeys for our 39th Annual Thanksgiving Potluck Feast. As is our tradition, we will deliver a free turkey and roasting pan to volunteers' homes the week of the potluck. Please drop off the cooked turkey before dinner begins on the evening of Tuesday, November 23rd. We also need volunteers to help carve turkeys just before and during the event.

Can't Cook a Turkey? Bring a Side Dish!

ABC encourages everyone from the Agassiz neighborhood, Agassiz Baldwin Children's Programs, and Maria L. Baldwin School communities to come together for an evening of celebration, good company, and delicious food. Neighbors and friends are encouraged to bring a side dish ample enough for their family and a few more to share.

TENTH ANNUAL SMALL WORKS SHOW SALE AND EXHIBITION

Agassiz Baldwin Community (ABC) is pleased to present the tenth anniversary Small Works Show featuring the work of fifty-two artists. This popular exhibition and sale, devised to support the creation of the art center, showcases and celebrates the strength and breadth of work created by artists living and working in Cambridge.

The Small Works Show is an annual display, remarkable in its scope and diversity. Half the proceeds of all artwork sales will fund ABC's goal of providing children and practicing artists throughout the city with programs and work-space. Our new arts facility is named for the late Maud Morgan, a widely loved and respected artist who made her home in Cambridge.

Please join us for the opening reception for the Small Works Show 2010 on Friday, October 15 from 6:30 to 8:00 PM. Enjoy the lively atmosphere and light refreshments, and meet the artists.

The show runs from October 15 to November 27, 2010.
