AGASSIZ ELECTRONIC DISCUSSION BOARDS NOW

The ANC Board has approved a pilot project that will provide the community with electronic discussion boards to keep interested people updated on various issues important to the neighborhood. Please check into our bulletin boards and see how they work! Go To:

www.agassiz.org

look for Discussion Boards and link to them
We will begin with two Discussion Boards:

Harvard Planning Issues (construction, underground garage, long-term planning, etc.)

and

General Community Issues (sewer construction, crime bulletins, traffic issues, etc.)

We will assess this project in three months and refine it, so bear with us as we ourselves learn how to manage this resource.
Your comments are most welcome as we proceed.

YOU CAN GET THE WHISTLER before it goes to press at www.agassiz.org it can be down loaded as a pdf file or viewed on line in color!

GOT EMAIL??

Using email reduces our mail expenses while getting you information more efficiently. Contact us at

WHAT IS THE ANC MISSION to promote community participation and respect all points of view?

The Agassiz Neighborhood Council provides a forum for discussion and action in the community through monthly neighborhood council meetings and other committee meetings. Without consensus the ANC will not take a position on any issue, allowing all points of view to be posed and aired. In cases of neighborhood conflict on issues, the ANC will make every effort to provide a process that includes all points of view and works toward a solution that is acceptable to the majority.

Notes from the December 18 ANC Meeting
Agassiz Study Group Presents
Recommendations

The Agassiz Study Group, supported by the Cambridge Community Development Department (CCD), presented their recommendations for the neighborhood after a year and a half of study. Members Amy Barad, Joel Bard, Deb Galef, Miriam Goldberg, Ross Hoffman, Fred Meyer
and Dave Wood each presented a series of recommendations.
Stuart Dash from CCD was on hand for support as was State Representative Alice Wolf as a guest.

Traffic and Transportation recommendations included more intra city routes and other creative routes utilizing the resources of Lesley and Harvard for public transit, safer street crossings at many locations, encouragement of non auto travel, traffic calming, support for the urban ring, and use of alternative fuels.

The recommendation for economic development and employment was to encourage the City to develop a formal plan to communicate with the ANC about business that would be useful to the residents.

Urban design recommendations included preservation of pedestrian short cuts, a second access route to Sacramento Field, underground utility wires whenever possible, tree plantings and for new buildings, an expectation that they fit into existing residential aesthetics.

Some miscellaneous recommendations were for Oxford Street be closed and used from time to time as space for community celebrations; that immediate graffiti removal be encouraged; that ANC continue to plant trees and that residents be encouraged to take advantage of the street tree planting program.

Open space is lacking in Agassiz, and it was recommended that the feasibility of creating a park over the commuter rail at Porter Square be explored. The Committee recommended the City pursue funds for open space through the Community Preservation Act, rename the Alden tot lot located at the corner of Sacramento and Oxford Streets, that signage be put up so residents could find Sacramento Field and that passive recreational use be developed for the field. Recommendations were made that Harvard temporarily landscape during upcoming construction and incorporate publicly accessible open space on Oxford St./Divinity School property.

It was recommended that the City explore affordable housing opportunities as they arise, as well as provisions for single room occupancy in residential areas. If there is new student housing, it is recommended to be low density. The committee supported Harvard’s objective to extend quadrangles into neighborhood bounddaries. Also recommended was the pursuit of affordable housing funds through the Community Preservation Act.

Zoning recommendations included development of by the City of an inventory with all lots over 6,000 square feet. This would allow ANC to have a sense of all potential new development. Also recommended was a buffer zone near Lesley similar to, but not as large as the new transitional zone at the Hammond/Harvard
dge. It was recommended that the neighborhood consider a conservation district for Agassiz.

The committee recommended that Lesley work on landscaping at 47 Oxford. It recommended that Harvard keep all museums in Cambridge and offer free admission for residents and school groups. It recommended that Harvard move its shuttle bus stop from Oxford Street, and that Harvard keep a pedestrian-friendly, neighborhood oriented use in commercial spaces along Mass. Ave. The Academy of Arts and Sciences should keep its gates open during posted hours, and housing should be considered for Harvard and Lesley low wage earners. Harvard should involve the neighbhood early in all planning processes, and Harvard should advise the neighborhood of its public events.

Members of the council responded to many of the recommendations and made many suggestions to the committee members. At the end of the meeting, participants voted for the recommendation most important to them. Stuart Dash said that the comments would be reviewed by the committee, and the recommendations would be reworked to include input received at the meeting. The Whistler will keep you up to date on the revisions.

For a complete list of recommendations, please call (617) 349-6287 or email jmcnullen@agassiz.org, and Jonathan McMullen will send the material to you.

Crime Watch

Neighborhood Alert Posted Mid December

Cambridge Police alerted the ANC to a recent neighborhood break-in where a home was entered via an unlocked window. The assailant fled when the victim screamed.

There were three other incidents of house breaks earlier this fall: on Prentiss St., Mass. Ave. and Newport Rd., and there is a suspect, Timothy Shepard, who can be seen on the Cambridge Police website at:
http://www.ci.cambridge.ma.us/~CPD/

Are You Interested In an Agassiz Safety meeting??

For many of us this is a season of good cheer. But for others this a time of being under attack in terms of our safety in the world and in our homes. This is to let the women of the Agassiz area know that the Women's Commission is able to help organize a Women's Safety Meeting that could include members of the police department and City Council. There would be an update on the late night break in/assault December 11th with information on how the investigation is proceeding.

Safety meetings are an opportunity for neighbors to get help figuring out what kinds of safety initiatives would be helpful. The police can offer a self-defense class based on the Rape Aggression Defense system (RAD) a 16-hour course which begins with awareness, prevention, risk reduction and avoidance and progressing to basic hands-on defense training.
Certified RAD instructors teach this class.

Another self-defense program is geared toward mothers and daughters or just daughters. Girls' LEAP, a self-defense curriculum for ages 8 to 14, incorporates physical skill build-uing with journaling and drawing activities, role play, discussion groups, conflict resolution techniques, and safety information.
It addresses each girl in her entirety-empowering her physical, mental, emotional and spiritual points of view. This program can run in conjunction with the Cambridge Police Department's Rape/Aggression defense program.

If you would like to participate in a safety meeting, please call Mary at The Women's Commission 349-4697. To speak with the Police to find out how the investigation is going call 349-3370. You may speak with the Public Information Officer Frank Pasquarrello, 349-3237, RAD 349-6008, 349-6009, or 349-3236. You may also call any of those #s to have a polic officer to your home to do a safety check of window locks and lights. The number for LEAP is: 1 781 283-2904.

Holiday Tree Collection
Curbside: Holiday trees will be picked up for recycling December 26 through January 11, on the same day as your trash, in a separate truck, unless it is snowing. If DPW crews are plowing and shoveling, trees will be picked up with the trash.

PLEASE REMOVE plastic bags, lights, tree stands, ornaments, garland, tinsel, etc. from tree before placing at the curb. Make sure your trash, recycling and trees are placed at the curb by 7 a.m. on the day of your pick up.

Drop-off: Trees can be dropped off at the Cambridge Recycling Drop-off Center at 147 Hampshire St. from 4 p.m. - 7:30 p.m. on Dec. 27, Jan. 3, Jan. 8 and Jan. 10, or from 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. on Dec. 29 and Jan. 5. For more information, call 617-349-4800.

Conservation Commission Members Wanted
City Manager Robert W. Healy is accepting applications from residents interested in serving as voting members of the Cambridge Conservation Commission. The Commission consists of seven members appointed to three-year terms by the City Manager.

Members are responsible for the protection and preservation of Cambridge’s wetlands, streams, rivers, and flood plains, and are involved in other local and regional natural resource management issues. Anyone with an interest in natural resource protection is encouraged to apply. The Commission particularly encourages those with experience in wetlands biology, civil engineering, hydrology, or environmental law to apply.

Commission responsibilities include regular attendance at monthly public meetings/hearings (usually held on Monday nights), careful review and analysis of permit applications under the Massachusetts Wetlands Protection Act, and occasional site visits.

Letters of interest and resumes should be sent to Robert W. Healy, City Manager, 795 Massachusetts Avenue Cambridge, MA 02139. For more information about the Conservation Commission and deadlines to apply, please call Nancy E. Glowa, Interim Director at 617-349-4680.

New Economic Development Director
Estella Johnson has been hired as the new Economic Development Director and joined the City on December 17. Economic Development is a division of the Community Development Department. Estella has over 20 years of professional experience in the public, private and non-profit sectors.

For the last nine years, she was President and CEO of the Gate City Community Development Corporation in Greensboro, North Carolina where she focused on management, fund raising, grant writing, marketing and all aspects of founding and running the organization. Prior to that, Estella worked for the Chicago Housing Authority in strategic planning and served as an assistant commissioner in the City of Chicago Department of Economic Development.

CRLS Hosts Bunker Hill Community College
Spring courses at the Cambridge Satellite of Bunker Hill Community College begin January 22. Classes are held in the evenings at Cambridge Rindge and Latin School, and offerings include writing, math, computer, accounting and early childhood education courses. You can register at City Hall, from 4:30 - 6:00 p.m., on the following dates in January: 1/3, 1/8, 1/10, 1/15 and 1/17. For more information, call Bunker Hill C. C. at (617) 228-2422.

v Lesley University v

Lesley Facility Planning
Interested residents met with Lesley this fall to discuss facility planning issues. There are several potential scenarios that will have impact on the Agassiz neighborhood, and it was agreed that the working group would come together again when Lesley has more information about their facility needs.

What Lesley Owns and Leases in and around Agassiz
In addition to the buildings on and adjacent to the White Hen Pantry. Lesley owns the White Hen Pantry as well.

Lesley is also leasing space in Cambridge and Arlington. They lease 19,000 square feet in Porter Arcade (directly behind Porter Exchange and across from the CVS) formerly Bed and Bath. Other leased space includes 25,000 square feet on Broadway in Arlington. Inside the Porter Exchange building itself, Lesley rents 55,000 square feet of space (this lease was in place at the time of the original purchase) on the 2nd floor to the Smithsonian for the Center for Astrophysics, and that lease ends in 2005.

What May Change

Lesley acquired the Art Institute of Boston (AIB) in 1998. It is located in Kenmore Square, Boston, and the lease on one of its two buildings may be lost soon. There are several possible scenarios in Boston, but if these efforts are unsuccessful, another potential scenario is to re-site the AIB in the Porter Square area. One possible site is the 55,000 square foot space on the second floor of Porter Exchange, currently leased by the Smithsonian. This will necessitate a thorough re-thinking of many Lesley facilities and resources.

This scenario would trigger a host of neighborhood concerns that arise when the possible influx of 500 more students (half of whom would need housing) is considered. Lesley should have more information in March to help inform the decision on the future site of AIB. There are other facility issues that need discussion, including the possible move of Lesley’s library to Porter Exchange, the possible use of the parking lots across Mass. Ave. as student housing, and possible new construction on Lesley’s main campus within the C2A zone on the north side of Mellen Street.

The working group will meet in March and study the implications for the neighborhood. To be on the Lesley Working Committee or to receive more information on this process, please email: <jmcullen@agassiz.org> or call Jonathan McMullen at (617) 349-6287x23.

WINTER IS FINALLY HERE - BE A GOOD NEIGHBOR AND SHOVEL YOUR WALK!

There are families with small children, people with infirmities and older residents that do not leave their homes if the sidewalks are not clear. IT IS THE LAW that homeowners clear sidewalks. If you see neighbors who disregard the law, please call the hot line (617) 349-4903, and provide them with the offenders address. The DPW will give the neighbor one warning before issuing a $25 ticket each day the sidewalk is not cleared.

Stock up on ice melter before a storm. Use ice melter with calcium chloride. It is better for the environment and only a small amount is required to melt the ice. Potassium chloride is okay, too. Avoid sand if you can, it fills catch basins and storm drains and is expensive to clear away in the spring.

HOLD THE SALT FOR THE TREES, PLEASE

By Larry Acosta, City Arborist

We all appreciate well maintained and ice free roads and sidewalks, but when it comes at the expense of trees, we should think twice about how much and where we apply salts and sodium chloride. Trees in sidewalks have a tough time as it is, because soils in cities are generally compacted and dry. Salt complicates the situation even more because:

* Salt compacts the already dense urban soil, limiting root growth.
* Salt can injure by direct contact the foliage of conifers that keep their needles during winter.
* Salt stays in the soil and is absorbed by the roots in spring and moves to the leaves where it is toxic.
* Salt reduces the water absorbing capacity of roots and the tree dies of thirst.

When applying salts to sidewalks, paths in parks and public buildings and to roadways be sure NEVER to directly apply salts to planting beds and tree wells. Use the right amount of salt for the level of snowfall or ice. Use pickle, a mixture of sand and salt.

Trees are one of the few elements of our city infrastructure that appreciate or grow in value as the years pass, but only if they are in good condition. Let’s protect this valuable asset by doing what we must to make streets and sidewalks safe in winter, but with a care for the green that blooms in the spring.

Sacramento Street Gallery presents "String Theory" recent drawings by J.M. Ryan January 8th to January 29th
Artists reception Friday, January 25, 6-8 p.m.
20 Sacramento Street, Open Weekdays 9-5

J. M. Ryan has lived and worked in the Boston area for the past 20 years. She is a graduate of Boston University's MFA program and works at the Art Institute of Boston at Lesley University. Her work has been exhibited both locally and nationally.

Ryan's body of work explore the world of metaphor. The images in this show are not concerned with any order or developing narrative. It is the common object that conveys meaning. Many of the objects are placed opposing each other creating a tension of an anticipated event. The strong formal representation of the objects give her images an uncommon importance. These works explore the relationship between image, viewer and reality.
